

Strategy Consulting Principal – IngenuIT Partners technology management consultancy

We are a boutique management consultancy who believe technology presents enormous opportunity but harnessing it takes strategy, expertise and a dash of ingenuity. If you are a great critical thinker with an excellent communication style, and the ability to produce consulting grade content, then we would love to talk to you.

We have a number of clients requiring strategy and architecture work and are looking to bring on an additional two consultants. Our engagements always blend business and technology strategy so a background in technology is important but needn't require deep technical skills. While our engagements and industries vary, experience in supermarket or retail supply chain industry would be highly relevant for one of the roles.

Initially you will be working under a partner and so can expect leadership, structure and client engagement to be driven there, however we are looking for those who can operate with autonomy at a senior level. Our clients are well known Australian corporate, government and NGO organisations, across financial services, education and humanitarian services.

So, if you are interested in becoming a highly regarded strategic consultant, with exposure to a variety of interesting projects, IngenuIT will be a great place for you.
